2. Information We May Collect

Account and identity information

Depending on the features enabled by a housing society or community, HOMINODE may collect name, mobile number, user ID, profile information, user role, community membership, account status, and approval status. Where identity verification is required, HOMINODE may also process identity documents or supporting verification files submitted by a user.

- Name and mobile number
- User ID and profile information
- Resident, Administrator, Super Administrator, or Security role
- Community or housing society membership
- Account and approval status
- Identity verification documents where required

Residence and property information

HOMINODE may store information necessary to associate users with the correct community, building, floor, apartment, or unit.

- Community or housing society
- Building, floor, apartment or unit
- Ownership or tenancy status
- Move-in and move-out information
- Occupancy status
- Family members and emergency contacts
- Vehicles associated with a residence

Visitor and security information

HOMINODE may process information required for visitor, gate, and security operations.

- Visitor name and contact information
- Visit purpose and host resident
- Visit date and time
- Entry and exit records
- Gate approvals and delivery access
- Security records

Service and community information

Depending on the modules enabled by the community, HOMINODE may process operational information relating to community management.

- Complaints and service requests
- Maintenance requests
- Amenities and facility bookings
- Notices and announcements
- Emergency communications
- Parking information
- Resident requests

Billing and payment-related information

Where billing features are enabled, HOMINODE may store maintenance charges, bills, payment status, payment references, receipts, and billing history. HOMINODE does not necessarily process payments directly. Where a third-party payment service is used, that provider may process payment information under its own privacy policy.

Device and technical information

HOMINODE may automatically process limited device and technical information for security and service operation.

- Device platform and app version
- Push-notification token
- Installation identifier
- Authentication and security information
- Error and security logs
- Relevant application activity timestamps

3. How We Use Information

Information collected through HOMINODE may be used to operate, secure, and improve the service.

- Create and manage user accounts
- Verify users and community membership
- Assign residents to apartments or units
- Manage resident onboarding and lifecycle

- Manage visitors and gate approvals
- Support security operations
- Process complaints and service requests
- Manage facilities and amenities
- Deliver community notices and notifications
- Maintain billing and maintenance records
- Support emergency communications
- Prevent unauthorized access and misuse
- Maintain audit and security records
- Improve reliability and performance
- Comply with applicable legal obligations

4. Housing Society and Community Administration

A housing society, apartment association, management body, or authorized administrator using HOMINODE may control certain information relating to its residents, buildings, visitors, security operations, and community activities. Authorized administrators may access information necessary to manage their community. Security personnel receive access only to information required for authorized security functions. HOMINODE is designed to restrict users from accessing information belonging to communities for which they are not authorized.

5. Sharing of Information

Marantrix does not sell personal information. Information may be shared only where reasonably necessary to provide the service, comply with law, or support authorized community operations.

- Authorized housing society administrators
- Authorized security personnel
- The resident or user to whom the information relates
- Technology and infrastructure providers required to operate HOMINODE
- Cloud hosting, database, notification, storage, mapping, and image-hosting providers
- Government or law-enforcement authorities when legally required
- Professional advisers where necessary for legal or regulatory purposes

6. Firebase, Cloud Services and Third-Party Infrastructure

HOMINODE may use third-party infrastructure and services for cloud hosting, authentication, databases, messaging, file storage, mapping, image hosting, and related technical functions. Parts of HOMINODE may use Google Firebase / Google Cloud and other infrastructure providers. These providers may process limited information necessary to provide their services under their own terms and privacy policies.

7. Push Notifications

HOMINODE may send notifications relating to visitor approvals, complaints, parking, amenities, billing, notices, security-related events, and other important community activities. Users may control notification permissions through device settings. Disabling push notifications does not necessarily prevent important information from being available inside HOMINODE.

8. Identity Verification Documents

Where a community requires identity verification, users may be asked to provide supporting documents. Identity documents are not intended to be publicly accessible, are restricted to authorized verification workflows, may be reviewed by authorized administrators, and may be retained only as necessary for verification, security, legal, or community-management requirements.

9. Information Security

Marantrix uses reasonable technical and organizational measures intended to protect information, including authentication, role-based access controls, community-level access restrictions, server-side validation, security rules, application integrity controls, restricted access to sensitive files, and security logging. No electronic system or internet transmission can be guaranteed to be completely secure. Users are responsible for protecting their devices, OTPs, login credentials, and account access.

10. Data Retention

Information may be retained for as long as reasonably necessary to provide HOMINODE services, maintain community and security records, fulfil contractual or legal obligations, resolve disputes, and maintain legitimate audit or transaction records. Certain historical records may be retained after a resident moves out or an account becomes inactive where required for legitimate community, security, accounting, or legal purposes. Information that is no longer reasonably required may be deleted or anonymized where appropriate.

11. Account Deactivation and Resident Move-Out

A user's operational access may be deactivated by an authorized community administrator. When a resident moves out, current apartment assignments may be removed, access to community services may be restricted, and historical records may be retained where reasonably necessary. Certain transaction, billing, complaint, security, visitor, or audit records may remain for legitimate record-keeping purposes.

12. User Rights

Subject to applicable law, users may have rights to request access to personal information, request correction of inaccurate information, request deletion of certain information, withdraw consent where processing is based on consent, and raise concerns about how their information is processed. Some requests may be subject to legal, contractual, security, accounting, or community record-retention requirements.

13. Children's Information

HOMINODE is primarily intended for use by adults and authorized community users. Information about children or family members should only be entered by a parent, guardian, or other person authorized to provide that information. HOMINODE should not be used by children to independently create accounts unless specifically supported and legally permitted.

14. International Processing

HOMINODE may use cloud providers whose systems or infrastructure are located outside the user's country. Where applicable, Marantrix will take reasonable steps to ensure that such processing is handled in accordance with applicable privacy and data-protection requirements.

15. Changes to this Privacy Policy

Marantrix may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. Where material changes are made, HOMINODE may update the effective date, display a notice in the application, or require users to accept a new Privacy Policy version before continuing to use the service.

16. Contact

For privacy-related questions or requests, contact Marantrix - HOMINODE, Attn: Sukumar P M, Abhayam, C 38102-1, Chittatinkara, Maruthankuzhy, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala 695013, India. India: +91 72003 43219. Philippines: +63 9766347559.
